

United Way of Olmsted County Women United Maude Finch Award Nomination Form

United Way of Olmsted County

United Way's Women United is an affinity group of women leadership contributors whose collective, caring power is building a healthier, stronger community for all.

The Maude Finch Award, presented annually by Women United, is given in recognition of a woman in our community whose service or achievements are outstanding examples of helping improve the lives of others by giving, advocating, or volunteering with United Way of Olmsted County or United Way affiliated organizations.

Nominees will be selected for their action, results, and dedication of time in one or more of the interconnected building blocks for a good quality of life – education, health, and financial stability. The nominee's service or achievements should have contributed to creating a better community for all.

The awardee will be honored at United Way's celebration event on Tuesday, April 23, 2019.
